2. Choose an Investment Level

What does this investment fund?

Below are suggested sponsorship amounts for any and all of the above programs. You can find out more about each by visiting our website at shehasaname.org/annualreport2021.

$10,000 RESTORE >> Send a survivor to college or support a dream

Survivors of human trafficking have little support to pursue their vision for what comes next beyond restorative programming. Some pursue a degree without debt while others are able to bring their dreams to fruition.

$5,000 THRIVE >> Prevent online exploitation of minors

She Has A Name offers a digital course for free to 11-18 year olds, those most at risk for exploitation through human trafficking. This resource has become increasingly relevant during the COVID-19 pandemic as children and youth spend more time online than ever before.

$2,500 PROTECT >> Provide One Hour Community Training

She Has A Name provides community education through a unique curriculum that addresses human trafficking education and awareness. We receive requests to offer this training around the state to groups such as the staff at Nationwide Insurance Company, Equitas Health, and other community and professional organizations.

$1,000 ADVOCATE >> Send She Has A Name to the Statehouse

Seeking justice for those impacted by human trafficking starts with just laws. These equip law enforcement with the tools necessary to recognize cases of human trafficking as well as serve appropriate justice for perpetrators. She Has A Name testifies as an expert witness within the Ohio House and Senate to increase understanding around this complex issue.

$500 FREEDOM >> Educate a John

She Has A Name manages Columbus' private Solicitor Education Program. First time solicitation offenders (men purchasing sex, the most common form of human trafficking in Ohio) learn from social workers and survivors about the realities of human trafficking. Buyers are 70% less likely to re-offend after attending our Solicitor Education Program.
